MAY 15 - 16 - 17

THREE DAYS AND NIGHTS OF FINE ENTERTAINMENT FOR THE ENTIRE FAMILY

the FARM TRIBUNE

VOL. XXII NO. 48 PUBLISHED WEEKLY — PORTERVILLE, CALIFORNIA Sec. A — May 8, 1969

WHO WILL IT BE THIS YEAR?

FUN FOR EVERYONE AT THE FAIR

PORTERVILLE - A variety of fun for everyone - on both sides of the generation gap - is programmed for the 22nd annual Porterville fair that is coming up next week, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, May 15, 16, and 17.

The thrill of highly competitive livestock judging and showmanship will keynote the fair, as Future Farmers and 4-H club exhibitors show the "best in the west" in beef, lamb, hog and dairy divisions.

The "modern beat" will fill the air of the fair as the Trinidad Smokehouse, the American Blues, and the Midnight Souls bands perform; Buck Shaffer will have his Fabulous Studio band and the PUHS Panther band on stage; Jerry Kuhlmann will present his Bartlett Junior High band in concert; Lila Sinner's Accordians Extraordinary will play on the grounds; and backing the night show will be one of the fine show business professionals in California - Al Lyons.

Horses will be in the spotlight at the fair, with annual Open Quarter Horse show leading off at 8 a.m., May 15; 4-H Horse show comes up the next morning; local ranch horse competition that afternoon, and the fast-moving Porterville Fair Gymkhana the morning of May 17.

Action of the auction is set for the afternoon of May 17, with the world's champion livestock auctioneer, Skinner Hardy, of Bakersfield, calling the bids as Future Farmers and 4-H club members put their finished, high-quality animals on the block for benefit of those persons who want the finest meat for their food lockers.

And livestock exhibitors will

Many People Do A Lot Of Things To Get The Porterville Fair Going

PORTERVILLE - To the person attending the Porterville Fair as a paying spectator (of which fair directors hope there will be many this year) everything may seem to have fallen into place on its own, but such is not the case.

Fifteen fair directors, plus some 20 key department heads, plus perhaps two or three hundred leaders and junior leaders of 4-H Future Farmer organizations throughout southeastern Tulare county, plus who knows how many persons connected with commercial exhibits and concession booths, plus parents, plus bank

Downey Boy Gets First Trout Limit

CAMP NELSON - Pat Owens, 14, of 12115 Morning Ave., Downey, took the first limit catch of trout in the Tule river Saturday morning, thereby winning for himself a $60 spinning rod and reel. Young Owens completed his catch of 10 fish, the limit for trout, at 7:29 a.m., about an hour after the season opened. The spinning rod and reel were presented to him by John Lewis, president of the Western High Sierra association.

MR. SPUD, that's the funny fellow in the photo who will be in town for the Porterville Fair,

May 15, 16, and 17. Not only will he appear each night in the Fair's outdoor stage show, he'll also be around to entertain elementary school children.

Young Riders Will "Pour It On" In Porterville Fair's Gymkhana

PORTERVILLE - Young riders will be competing for trophies and ribbons in annual gymkhana staged at the Porterville fair - this year on Saturday morning, May 17, starting at 10 a.m.

Gymkhana Chairman John Keck states that six events are listed in two age groups: In and Out Stake, Figure 8 stake, Quadrangle race, barrel race, key hole race, and sack on barrel. Competitive age groups will be 8-13 years, and 14-18 years.

High-point trophy will go to the high point rider in each age category; ribbons will be awarded in each event from first through fourth.

Entry deadline is 6 p.m., May 16. Entry forms can be obtained at the Porterville chamber of commerce office, at The Farm Tribune, and at the general office on the fair grounds. All entries must be filed prior to the deadline in the fair office, or mailed to P.O. Box 1110, Porterville.

Working on the gymkhana committee with Keck are: Uly Priftike, Walker Thomas, Dr. Jim Shelton, Mrs. John Keck and Mrs. Herb Brown.

Beef Cattle Exhibitors Work For Special Awards At Porterville Fair

PORTERVILLE - Competition in the beef classes at the Porterville fair is traditionally as tough as in any livestock show in western states, and this year should be no exception, as Future Farmer and 4-H club exhibitors bring finished, groomed, quality animals into the show ring and the sale ring.

Adding incentive to competitive showing are a number of special awards that go to top winners - in addition to the class ribbons and the champion ribbons.

One of the fair's top awards is the John Dennis Memorial trophy that was established by directors of the fair and that goes for the grand champion steer of the show.

Replica of the perpetual trophy for permanent possession of the winner is provided by directors of the Tulare County Cattlemen's association, who also provide a trophy for exhibitor of the reserve grand champion steer.

The perpetual Ralph L. Jones Memorial trophy, with a replica for permanent possession, will again be given by Esther Jones for the champion Shorthorn steer.

California Pollettes trophies will go for the best FFA and best 4-H Polled Hereford exhibit.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Guthrie will give a trophy for the champion FFA and the champion 4-H steer.

Sequoia Ranch trophy will go to the exhibitors of the champion Angus market beef shown by a Future Farmer and by a 4-H club member.

The Harry A. Wilcox Memorial award, presented by Virgil and Esther Lowe in the form of a $100 scholarship, will go to the exhibitor of the champion Hereford of the show with the qualification that the winner must have exhibited at least three previous years at the Porterville fair.

Ribbons in the beef division will go from first through fifth, with ribbons for breed champions.

Best groomed stall award will be presented by Leggett's Men's store; second place award will be donated by Hal and Beverly Campbell.

Chairman of the beef division is Richard Owen; assistant chairman is Leland Vossler.

WILLY KEO almost made it, but not quite. What he does during the evening stage show at the Porterville Fair, May 15, 16, and 17, is anyone's guess. Willy has entertained throughout the world with his "devilish dexterity on the diving board."

About 92 per cent of the San Joaquin valley Navel orange crop has been moved.

First digging of spring potatoes occurred in the Kern county district on April 27.

Planting of sweet potatoes is underway in the San Joaquin valley.

FAIR GROUND ACTIVITY TO START SATURDAY

PORTERVILLE - The big push of 1969 starts Saturday at the Porterville fair grounds, when commercial exhibitors will go to work in earnest preparing for opening of the Porterville fair the morning of May 15.

Nightwatchmen go on duty Monday night, May 12, and continue through the fair; fair office on the grounds will open Tuesday morning, May 13; exhibitor passes will be available at the office starting Wednesday, May 14; livestock will be accepted at the fair grounds on May 14 from 4 p.m. until 8 p.m.; tickets for the livestock exhibitors' banquet can be picked up at the fair office prior to 12 noon, May 17.

In charge of the office will be Mrs. Maxine Hodgson and Mrs. Ethel Prestage.

Fair Carnival Has Local Angle

PORTERVILLE - Even the carnival that will be on the Porterville Fair grounds May 15, 16, and 17 has its "local angle," since it is contracted through Johnny Lopez who has resided in Porterville for a number of years.

TWIRLERETTES TO ENTERTAIN SATURDAY NITE

PORTERVILLE - Featured on the night show of the Porterville fair, Saturday, May 17, will be the Porterville Twirlerettes, directed by Diane Wilson.

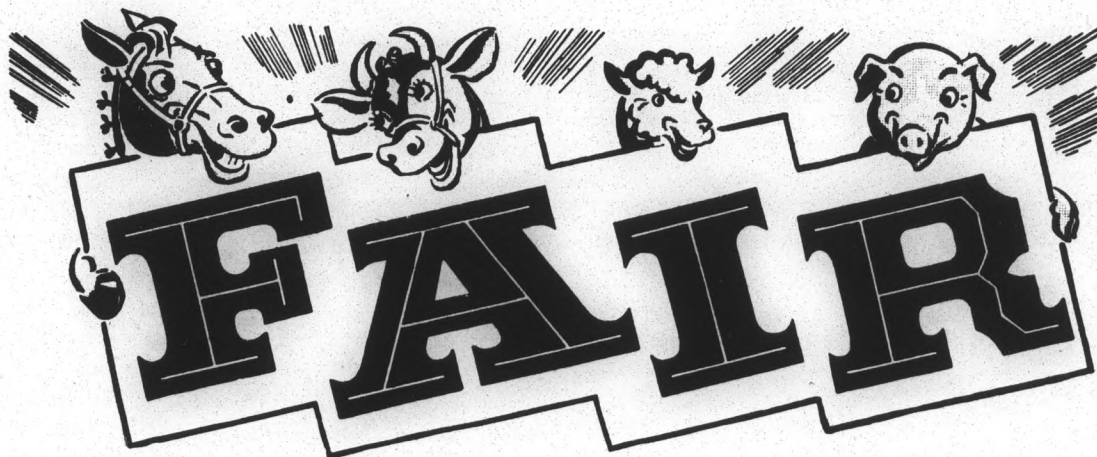

The group will do a fast drill routine and a fire routine, then the youngsters that Mrs. Wilson calls her PeeWee division, will perform.

In the senior group will be: Sandra Valine, Sherry Aanstad, Cheryl Fricke, Leslie Hargett, Debra Hill, Pam Holterman, Denise Howell, Megan Hubbard, Joni Johnston, Cynthia Letsinger, Eva Meier, Daphne Sorey and Vickie Ward.

In the PeeWee group will be: Jori Christl, Cara Cometta, Stacey Farmer, Sandy Fiorini, Suzanne Kurz, Shana Pritchett, and Paige Wilson.

MANY PEOPLE

personnel, plus Kiwanis club members and plus teachers - all have a more-or-less part in the Porterville fair.

Heading up the board of directors is A.K. "Babe" Hodgson, the first and only chairman the board has had in its 22 years of existence; Bill Rodgers, vice chairman in charge of publicity, and entertainment; Bob Board, secretary; and Mel Carter, treasurer.

Directors are, Chet Gilbert, entomology chairman; Bob Bennett, concessions and livestock exhibitors' banquet; John Trimmell, livestock auction; Jim Martinez, livestock superintendent; Bob Dusek, awards coordinator; Guido Lombardi, dairy division chairman.

Roscoe Honeycutt, exhibits and programs, and cotton chairman; Richard Owen, beef superintendent; Judge George Carter, livestock auction manager; Wilbert Moench, swine division chairman; and Dan Mahnke, Quarter Horse show chairman.

Other key division heads not on the board include; Mesdames A.N. Bakalian and Florence Boradori, entomology; Earl W. Reed, auditor; Mesdames Marion Guthrie and Clarence Valine, home economics; Ray Kennedy, farm mechanics; Bob Mailand, agriculture and horticulture; Bill Joos, pet parade; Paul Kruger, chairman of Kiwanis club gates committee; Bruce West, service gate; Mesdames Maxine Hodgson and Ethel Prestage, office managers; Bob Mishler, electrician; R. J. Owen, Jr., sheep division.

R. J. Sheets, poultry and rabbit division; Emmy Kibler, junior horse division; John Keck, gymkhana; Loren Schmid, open judging contest; Dr. C. S. Crane, veterinarian; and Skinner Hardy, auctioneer.

In so far as their fair activities are concerned, these people work without pay.

In fact there are no paid personnel in the Porterville fair organization. Members of the Porterville Junior chamber of commerce do receive pay on a percentage basis for the commercial exhibit and fair program advertising space they sell; construction, and other services necessary to produce the fair, are paid for; the professional outdoor show is booked out of Hollywood and is paid for.

But the real work of planning and producing the Porterville fair is done as "a labor of love" and not for money.

COMMERCIAL EXHIBITORS FILL SPACE AS FAIR READY FOR ITS 22ND YEAR

PORTERVILLE - Farm and Home items, farm machinery, cars, recreation equipment, youth organization material, chambers of commerce, and general displays will be represented in commercial exhibits that will be featured in the 22nd annual Porterville fair, May 15, 16, and 17.

Jerry Ward, chairman of the Porterville Junior chamber of commerce committee that is handling sale of commercial exhibit space, says that interior space is virtually sold out and that most of the outdoor areas are under contract.

"Indications are that this will be a record year for the fair in so far as commercial space is concerned," Ward states. "Well over 50 exhibitors have signed contracts, a number of them for two or more spaces, and several are still hanging fire. It looks now like a full house when the fair opens next Thursday."

As of the first of this week, the following firms had contracted for commercial exhibit space: Allied Insurance Agency, Billingsley & Elliott, BiRite Motors, Brey Wright Lumber company, Bannister Furniture, Beckman Instruments Inc., Fred Kurtz for the Babe Ruth League, California Republican Assembly, Campertown, Camper Trailer Sales, Campfire Girls, Crumbliss & Horton.

Daybell Nursery, Esther's Home Furnishings, The Farm Tribune, Finance & Thrift company, Faggart Buick Inc., G & W Chevrolet, Gang Sue's, General Tire company, Gray's Air Conditioning Inc., Harley Davidson, Honda of Porterville, Jones Hardware, Jones Locker, Josten's, Johnson Nurseries, Kirby Company of Porterville, Radio KCOK, Don Laux Farm Management, Lindel Chrysler-Plymouth, Leffingwell Chemical.

Montgomery Ward, Pearson Pump and Drilling Company, Porterville chamber of commerce, Porterville Studio, Porterville Trailer Center, Porterville Monumental Works, Porterville Elementary Schools, Porterville Archers, Rocky Hill Racing Assn., Ralston Purina company, Sears Roebuck company, Shepherd Volkswagen, Southern California Gas company, Southern California Edison company, Steve's Yardage, Tulare-Kings Counties Labor Council.

Tulare County Fruit Exchange, Tule River Cooperative Gins, Tulare County chamber of commerce, Tulare County Cow Belles, Valley Furniture and Appliance, Visalia Hearing Aid Center, and Ward's Tackle Shop, Porterville Sheltered Workshop, Ranch Automation, and Rockwell Manufacturing company.

RIGHT OUT of the old west comes Fay Snyder, west Hollywood that is, but she's handy with a rope, and she will be on the Porterville Fair's outdoor stage each evening, May 15, 16, and 17. If you think Fay is also the beautiful lady with the Poodle troupe, you're right. She is.

area in the main building.

Judging will start at 11:00 a.m.; all entries must be maintained in good condition throughout the fair. Exhibit will include a competitive show for Junior exhibitors, and an arrangement display from the Senior club.

President of the Garden club is Mrs. James Collier; co-chairmen of the flower show are Mesdames C.N. Spivey and Rodgers L. Moore.

FLOWER SHOW IS AGAIN A FAIR FEATURE

PORTERVILLE - Porterville Garden club will again sponsor the colorful flower show that has become a traditional feature of the Porterville fair, with entries to be taken between 8:00 a.m. and 10:00 a.m., Thursday, May 15, at the flower exhibit

HOME ECONOMICS ENTRIES FOR FAIR TO BE RECEIVED AT CHURCH MAY 12

PORTERVILLE - Entries in the home economics division of the 1969 Porterville fair will be received next Monday, May 12, at the Social hall in First Congregational church in Porterville between 3:00 p.m. and 6:00 p.m., with Mrs. John Guthrie, chairman of the division stating that all food and clothing entries must be brought in at that time.

Mrs. Guthrie, whose co-chairman is Mrs. Clarence Valine, also states that home furnishing items will be accepted at the Fair grounds from 9:00 a.m. until 11 a.m., May 14, with judging at 1 p.m.

Project books must accompany home economics division entries; classes are open to 4-H club members and girls in high school home economics departments.

Judging of foods and clothing is set for 9 a.m., May 13. At 3:30 p.m. modeling is scheduled in the all-cotton, senior division, and at 4:00 p.m. in the junior all-cotton division.

Award winners will be on stage at the fair on Friday, May 16, for all-cotton awards, and on Saturday, May 17, for foods and clothing awards, both at 8:00 p.m. All-cotton awards will be presented by Linda Cruff, Tulare County Maid of Cotton, and by Karen Eisner, alternate maid.

Ribbons will go from first through fifth in home economics divisions; Porterville Emblem club will present trophies to Senior Food and Clothing winners; Porterville 20 Ands will present trophies to Junior Food and Clothing winners; Porterville Women's club will present trophies to Home Furnishing winners; and Tule River Cooperative Gins Inc. will present sewing machines to senior All-Cotton winners and sewing boxes to junior winners.

Heading up the Clothing division are Mesdames Chester Griswold and Robert Nuckols; foods, Mesdames Arin Hochuli and Gordon Todd; and home furnishings, Mrs. David M. Stark.

Food and clothing items received and judged at the Congregational church will be moved to the fair grounds for display in the main exhibit building during the fair.

Animals Purchased At Fair's Auction Must Go To Licensed Slaughter House

PORTERVILLE - All animals sold at the Porterville fair's livestock auction May 17 must be butchered in a state-licensed slaughter house, according to a new policy set Monday night at final pre-fair meeting of the Porterville Fair Board of directors, held at the Edison company living center.

The action was taken to comply with state law that makes it mandatory that meat animals purchased for food consumption must be slaughtered in a licensed slaughter house.

Communications between Judge George Carter, a director of the fair and manager of the fair's market livestock auction, and the division of meat inspection, California department of agriculture were read to clarify the legal situation.

In so far as buyers at the auction are concerned, the new policy does not concern them, since fair personnel handles details of butchering animals and returning the carcass to the specified food locker.

In other business of the meeting, it was reported that sound systems have been arranged for the fair, and that there will be no public paging except in connection with fair business. A bulletin board will be placed at the fair grounds office and personal calls listed.

Police protection schedule was approved by fair directors, with night patrol on the grounds

Noted Judges For Livestock At Porterville Fair

PORTERVILLE - Noted livestock judges will be on hand at the Porterville Fair, May 15, 16, and 17, to "call 'em as they see 'em" for benefit of Future Farmer and 4-H club exhibitors.

Judging beef cattle will be Roy Parker, of Bakersfield, from the staff of the Agricultural Extension service; judging sheep will be Terry Mattox, from Fresno State college; judging swine will be Edward Leal, head of the Thomas Downey High School Agriculture department in Modesto.

Dairy judge will be Robert Selkirk, from Fresno State college; 4-H horse show judges will be Jack and Faye Sarrett, from Glennville; Quarter horse show judge will be Barbara Worth Oakford, from Simi.

Cherry set is light in the Stockton district.

FUN FOR EVERYONE

be guests of Porterville's five banks at annual Exhibitors' banquet the final evening of the fair in the Porterville Armory.

Professional entertainers will be on stage when the fair presents its traditional outdoor show each night; John Lopez will again have his carnival rides on the fair grounds.

Youngsters and their pets will get together the opening evening of the fair in annual pet parade; oldsters - and young people also - can find out just how much they really know about livestock by entering the open judging contest the final morning of the fair.

Porterville Garden club will again present a colorful flower show; all-cotton dress review will take the center stage the evening of May 16, featuring Linda Cruff, Tulare County Maid of Cotton, and Karen Eisner, alternate maid, along with cotton award winners at the fair.

Home economics winners will be on stage the final night of the fair, and special entertainment will be provided by Diane Wilson's Porterville Twirlerettes.

More than 100 exhibit spaces will be filled with commercial displays relating to farms and homes, recreation, and youth organizations.

Food and drink concessions, operated by community organizations, will serve everything from a snack and a glass of orange juice to a full-scale meal.

The Porterville fair, started 22 years ago, is the largest event of its kind that operates in California without aid of state funds. It is organized officially as a non-profit corporation, with all profits to be returned to the fair in the form of improvements and expansion. At present, 15 directors serve on the board without pay.

Admission to the grounds will be $1.50 for adults; 50 cents for high school and college students; 25 cents for elementary-age and younger boys and girls, with this latter group to be admitted without charge on opening day and evening if accompanied by an adult.

SHEPHERD VOLKSWAGEN, serving Porterville since 1967, recently occupied its new facility at 320 West Henderson. The main building, which represents an investment of $225,000, is completely air-conditioned and its 12,500 square feet of floor space houses sales, service and parts departments; general offices, and a waiting lounge for service patrons. A parts and storage area, covering 2,000 square feet, maintains a constant three-month inventory of all VW parts.

Pets And Kids Will Be In Spotlight On Opening Evening Of Fair, May 15

PORTERVILLE - Youngsters and pets will take the spotlight at the 22nd annual Porterville fair on Thursday, May 15, with judging to get underway in front of the grandstand in the municipal ball park at 6:30 p.m.

General Chairman Bill Joos states that all youngsters must have entry forms filled out when they arrive at the fair grounds; these forms can be obtained at elementary schools throughout the community; age limit for participants in the pet parade is 5-14 years.

New category for this year's parade is "Homeliest looking pet." Other categories are: Most useful pet, shortest ears, longest ears, best trained, best dressed, most unusual pet, most spots, shortest tail, longest tail and smallest pet.

Joos emphasizes that entries must be legitimate pets and that no harmful or poisonous insects, animals or snakes will be allowed on the grounds. A pet can be entered in only one category; owners of pets will be held responsible for action of their pet; decision of judges will be final.

Following the awarding of ribbons from first through third in each category, pets will be paraded in front of the outdoor stage. Members of the Porterville Kiwanis club will serve as judges.

PROFESSIONAL STAGE SHOW EACH NIGHT OF THE FAIR

PORTERVILLE - Professional outdoor entertainers will be on stage each night of the Porterville fair, May 15, 16, and 17, to present the type of show that has become traditional with the fair.

The Flying Viennas, a great European circus act, will appear in their flying return routine - and members of this troupe are all girls.

Don Kirby will bring mystifying illusions to the Porterville Fair stage, and will also be in town earlier in the week to entertain at schools.

Willie Keo will demonstrate his devilish dexterity on the diving board (provided he stays on it), and Fay Snider, will perform with her magic rope, then with her troupe of educated poodles.

Backing the stage show will be the Al Lyons combo, from Hollywood; Bill Rodgers will MC the show.

Prior to the professional show Thursday night, Jerry Kuhlmann will present his Bartlett Junior (Continued On Page 10)

You Can Bid By Proxy At Stock Auction

PORTERVILLE - Real fun in buying Future Farmer and 4-H livestock at the Porterville fair's auction is to be there and participate in the "action of the auction," but for persons otherwise detained, orders for purchases can be arranged with John Trimmell, phone 784-4265 and 784-1986, or with George Carter, phone 784-5097.

Instructions should be given on what is wanted - beef, whole or half; lamb or hog; an idea of about how high to go on the bid; and the food locker to which the carcass is to be returned. The Livestock Auction committee, headed by Carter, will take it from there.

Also on the committee, in addition to Trimmell, are R.J. Owen, Wilbert Moench and Richard Owen. Clerk of the sale is Earl W. Reed; cashier is C. Duane Miller.

Tickets Available At Chamber

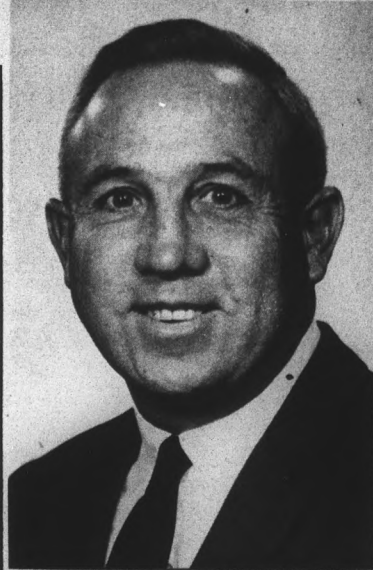

PORTERVILLE - Two of California's top water officials will be on hand for Porterville's annual Salute To Agriculture luncheon next Tuesday noon, May 13, in Gang Sue's Lantern room.

William Gianelli, Director of Water Resources, will give the luncheon address; he will be introduced by Jack Chrisman, chairman of the California Water commission.

Gianelli, a registered civil engineer, became director of the California State Department of Water Resources on January 2, 1967, after working for seven years in Sacramento as a partner in an engineering consulting firm bearing his name and specializing in the field of water supply, water rights, and related water problems.

He started his professional career with the Department of Water Resources as a junior hydraulic engineer in 1946 after serving in World War II with U.S. Army Engineers. During the 1950s he served as engineer consultant to several state legislative committees; he assisted with legislation to authorize the State Water

Milt Davis Heads Sportsmen's Assn. Big Barbecue Monday Night At Poplar

PORTERVILLE - Milt Davis has been elected president of the Southern Tulare County Sportsmen's association, succeeding Bill Scruggs; other new officers are: Clyde Wilcoxon, first vice president; Larry Phillips, second vice president; and Jim Stafford, secretary-treasurer.

New officers are joining old officers and association directors to stage the association's annual barbecue, set for Monday night at the Tule River Youth Center in Poplar, with J. Claude Nelson working as general chairman, and Norman Vossler as head of the foods committee.

Barbecue beef dinner will be served, starting at 7:00 p.m.; membership in the Southern Tulare County Sportsmen's association is $2.50 for adults and $1.25 for children under 12 years, which includes the barbecue. Funds raised are used (Continued On Page 10)

WORKSHOP BENEFIT SATURDAY

PORTERVILLE - Spaghetti dinner, as a benefit for the Porterville Sheltered Workshop, is set for Saturday night at the Porterville Elks' lodge under sponsorship of the Porterville Breakfast Lions. Serving will start at 6:30 p.m.

The meal, including dinner wine, will be served under candlelight; roving musicians will provide entertainment; later in the evening there will be dancing.

All profits from the event go into the Breakfast Lion fund through which debt that was contracted to pay for the Sheltered Workshop building is being retired. Dinner is $5.00 per plate per couple.

Louis Bellson Is Guest Artist With Panther Band

PORTERVILLE - The man who is generally considered to be the world's greatest drummer - Louis Bellson - will appear as guest artist when the Porterville High School Panther band, directed by Buck Shaffer, presents its 16th annual Spring concert tomorrow evening, Friday, in the Porterville Memorial auditorium. Curtain time is 8 p.m.

In addition, Bellson is a leading musical arranger, with many movie scores to his credit, also a composer. In his performance with the Panther band one of his original compositions will be featured, "Thundering Drums."

Another highlight of the evening will be presentation of the Frank Howard award to a former Porterville high school student who has made an outstanding contribution in the field of music, and the Frank Howard Junior award to the outstanding senior member of the Panther band.

Master of ceremonies for the concert will again be Harlan

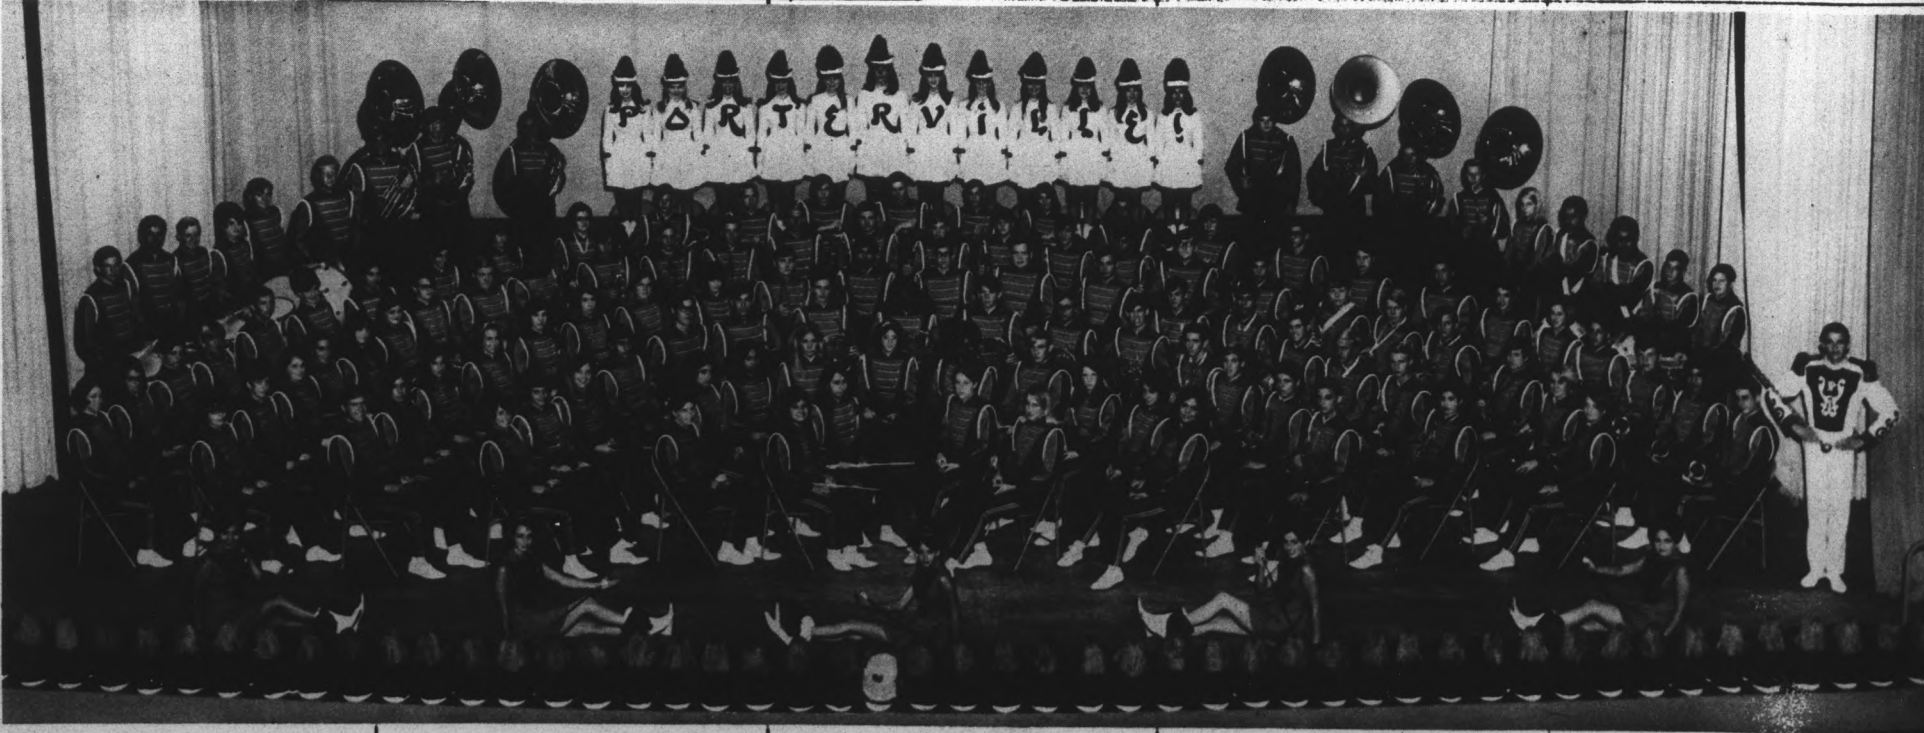

Ohde; following the concert, a reception will be held in the Panther Band room with all interested persons invited to attend.

Adult tickets at $1.00 donation and student tickets at 75 cents donation are available at Wayne's Music Mart, Meades Music, and the information desk at Porterville High school; they will also be on sale at the door.

Program for the concert will include: "His Honor March," Fillmore; "Beguine Again," Osser; "Mannin Veen," Wood;

"Cha Cha For Band," Melyan; "A Spiritual Festival," Ades; "Sonoro And Brioso For Winds," Broune; "Hallelujah," (from The Messiah), Handel; "America The Beautiful," Cacavas; "Thundering Drums," Bellson; and "Stars And Stripes Forever," Sousa.

Special numbers will include, "Seascape," Osser, with lighting effects by John White, and "Sweet Winds," Davis, featuring Gari Gray, clarinet; David Lane and Rick Shortman, alto sax; Fred Valero and Carol Oliver, tenor sax.

PUHS PANTHER band that will appear in concert tomorrow night, Friday, May 9, in the Memorial Auditorium then will be on the main stage of the Porterville fair at 7 p.m.,

Saturday night, May 17. The band is under the direction of

Editorial Comment

AGRICULTURE HITS RECORD, BUT...

Value of agriculture in Tulare county hit an all-time record high of $376,443,000 in 1968, a little over three percent and some $11,714,000 over the previous year, according to annual report issued this week by Elvin O. Mankins, agricultural commissioner.

These figures indicate that agriculture is still "king", and that Tulare county will most certainly maintain its traditional position as at least the second greatest agricultural county in the nation.

Certain paradoxes do become apparent when the 1968 report is studied. This report reflects the year of the "big freeze" in citrus, and gloomy predictions had been made that Tulare county's total agricultural income would be "way down" as a result.

And most certainly the year of 1968 was not universally a good year for all Tulare county farmers - what with taxes, rising operating costs, necessary adjustments to farm technology that demands bigger and bigger units of operation, and a general tightening of the spread between costs and returns. In fact some farmers "went down the drain" in 1968; yet this was a record crop value year.

How come?

The answer is the same as it has always been in agriculture - some commodity prices were down, some up; some commodity production was good, some bad. For instance, table grape revenue was up almost 40 per cent; high yield and hot market sent olive revenues up; ditto for peaches; more acreage and good prices increased prune revenue; walnuts, with a steady increase in acreage, also hit a hot market; barley, sugar beets, and vegetable crop revenues, in total, were up.

Citrus, of course, was way down; cotton, alfalfa hay, seed crops, livestock and poultry, and nursery production also declined.

And the 1968 report reflects a trend toward more orchard crops in Tulare county, with increases in Navel and Valencia orange acreage, almonds, plums, walnuts and grapes.

So the paradoxes do seem to appear in the 1968 agricultural report, yet it also seems that the report indicates farmers generally are adjusting to economic realities, and that farmers still represent the backbone of the Tulare county economy.

Europe Market Will Be Studied By Dr. Carpenter

BERKELEY - University of California Agricultural Economist G. Alvin Carpenter left Berkeley April 15, on a month-long trade mission to western and southern Europe.

Dr. Carpenter, economist in the UC Agricultural Extension service, is one of four economists making a study of trade expansion possibilities for American agricultural products. He will return near the end of May to prepare reports for information of agricultural commodity groups and producers.

The UC economist and fellow members of the team will concentrate on the European Economic community; the Common Market; France, West Germany, The Netherlands, Belgium, Luxemburg, and Italy. They will also include Yugoslavia to get a view of East-West trade possibilities.

The trip will be a resurvey of the Common Market countries for Carpenter. The main purpose, he said, is to assess the effects of increasing farm production and surpluses in those countries. As a result of the surpluses, he said, Common Market production is increasing competition with exports from the United States to western Europe and cutting into other traditional U.S. markets.

California, Dr. Carpenter pointed out, has been a long-time exporter to Europe of fresh, canned, and dried fruits, fresh and canned vegetables, citrus, cotton, nuts, and some variety meats. One in every six acres in American farm production, he estimated, grows crops for export.

Helicopters are being used in making an inventory of Bighorn sheep in the San Jacinto mountains of Riverside county.

Plans Made For Control Of Botulism On Tulare Lake If Action Is Necessary

SACRAMENTO - Ray Arnett, director, Department of Fish and Game has announced the formation of a committee for prevention of botulism and for, if necessary, epidemic control.

John Parrish, Department of Fish and Game, and Charles Stribling, U.S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, both of Fresno, will act as coordinators.

In a meeting at Hanford, it was revealed that record run-off of the King, Kaweah, Tule, and Kern rivers is expected. A total of 5,850,000 acre feet of water may be deposited in the Tulare Lake Basin. It is expected that over 121,000 acres of land will be flooded.

The first phase of the operation has already started and that is the identification of endangered areas and the delegation of patrol responsibilities.

Landowners are being contacted and will be requested to maintain pond areas deep enough to avoid shallow water areas. Water will be moved by pumps, if necessary, to avoid the dangers of botulism. And if botulism does develop a system of herding waterfowl and other birds away from problem areas will be instituted.

While the plans for epidemic control are being readied they will not be put into effect until necessary. Announcements will be made from time to time as to the progress of the work. Included in the cooperative work are the Department of Fish and Game, U.S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife, and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Dairy Division Exhibitors To Work For Special Breed Awards, Trophies

PORTERVILLE - Future Farmer and 4-H exhibitors in the dairy division of the 1969 Porterville fair will be working for a number of awards presented by breed associations and by individual breeders.

California Guernsey Cattle association awards will go for grand champion registered Guernsey female, 4-H and Future Farmer.

C.A. Gilbert award will go for grand champion registered Jersey female.

Holstein-Friesian Association of America awards will go to exhibitors of Holstein-Friesian cattle, and mark and Bruce Borror of the Sequoia ranch at Springville will present 4-H and FFA trophies to the exhibitors of the champion registered Holstein female.

Genetics Inc. will present breeding certificates for grand champion female in each division, however at least three animals must be in competition.

American Jersey Cattle club awards, in the form of rosettes, will go to the exhibitors of the grand champion registered Jersey female and Jersey bull.

A perpetual Porterville Young Farmers trophy will go to the 4-H club and the Future Farmer chapter that shows the winning dairy herd.

Lindsay Farm Bureau Center award will go for the best dairy herd individually owned.

The Arden Dairy trophy will go for the best dairy exhibit, with the award based on exhibitor's project, cleanliness of stall and animal, and ability to properly exhibit animal.

Bruce Ward award will go to the dairy division exhibitor who presents the best dairy project record book.

Best groomed stall award will be presented by the Porterville Farm Bureau center, with second place award in this category to be presented by the Tule River Cooperative Dryer.

Heading up the dairy cattle division of the fair are Guido Lombardi, chairman, and Ray Kennedy, assistant chairman. They state that ribbons will be awarded from first through fifth in all classes, plus ribbons for grand champion and reserve champion females.

Ribbons will also go in both FFA and 4-H sections for champion bull, champion and reserve champion female, senior champion female, and junior champion female; only registered dairy animals can show for champion.

SHOULD MARIJUANA PENALTY BE REDUCED?

PORTERVILLE - "Should the penalty for possession and use of marijuana be reduced?" will be the subject of a symposium to be conducted by Mrs. Florence McGovern's evening speech class at Porterville college, May 14. The meeting will be held in room MU-2 on campus; interested persons are invited to attend.

ALABAMA HILLS TO BE DEDICATED FOR RECREATION

BAKERSFIELD - America's most used outdoor backdrop for movie and TV productions will be dedicated at 1 p.m. May 24 by the Bureau of Land Management as the Alabama Hills Recreation lands.

The 30,000 acre area, used for western movies since the early 1920s, adjoins U.S. Highway 395 and State Route 14, west of Lone Pine, at the foot of Mt. Whitney.

National, state, movie and TV dignitaries have been invited to the old-time western dedication. Western pit barbecue, skydiving show, Indian dancing and exhibitions, choral groups, U.S. Navy band, street dance, art show, and square dancing are among the day's entertainment features. Barbecue tickets at $2 should be reserved in advance from the Lone Pine chamber of commerce, Lone Pine, California, 93545.

The Alabama Hills were named by southern sympathizers after the Confederate ship, "The Alabama," was sunk by the USS Kearsarge. Grotesque and spectacular granitic rock formations lure photographers, painters, picnickers, hikers, rock hounds and geologists.

The BLM plans an interpretative center, outdoor amphitheatre, museum, riding and hiking trails, camping and picnicking areas, and perhaps motorized golf-cart type trails for folks unable to walk some areas. The outdoor enthusiast may even have the opportunity to witness filming of western movies when crews are on location.

You Can Find Out Whether You Are A Livestock Judge

PORTERVILLE - It's one thing to second-guess a livestock judge; it's another thing to actually be a judge, but at the Porterville fair you do both - second-guess unofficially to yourself, then judge officially and win a prize if you are as good as you think you are.

At any rate, the annual open livestock judging contest is coming up again at the Porterville fair in which anyone of any age can compete as an individual, or on teams of five, in the judging of beef cattle, dairy cattle, swine, lambs and horses.

The event is scheduled for 9 a.m., Saturday, May 17, with Loren Schmid as chairman, assisted by Bill Bennett. Winners will be announced and awards presented at the Livestock Exhibitors' banquet, Saturday evening, May 17, in the Porterville armory.

Official placing judges will be: Richard Owen, beef; Guido Lombardi, dairy; Wilbert Moench, swine; R.J. Owen Jr., lambs; and Emmy Kibler, horses.

Special awards will include the perpetual Freeland Farnsworth trophy, with replica for permanent possession, donated by Williams Jewelers, for the highest scoring team.

Porterville Evening Recorder trophies will go to individual members of the highest scoring team.

Porterville Breakfast Lions Club trophies will go to the highest scoring man, woman, boy and girl.

The perpetual Jakie O. Lunstad Memorial award, with a replica for permanent possession, will go to the highest scoring boy and girl.

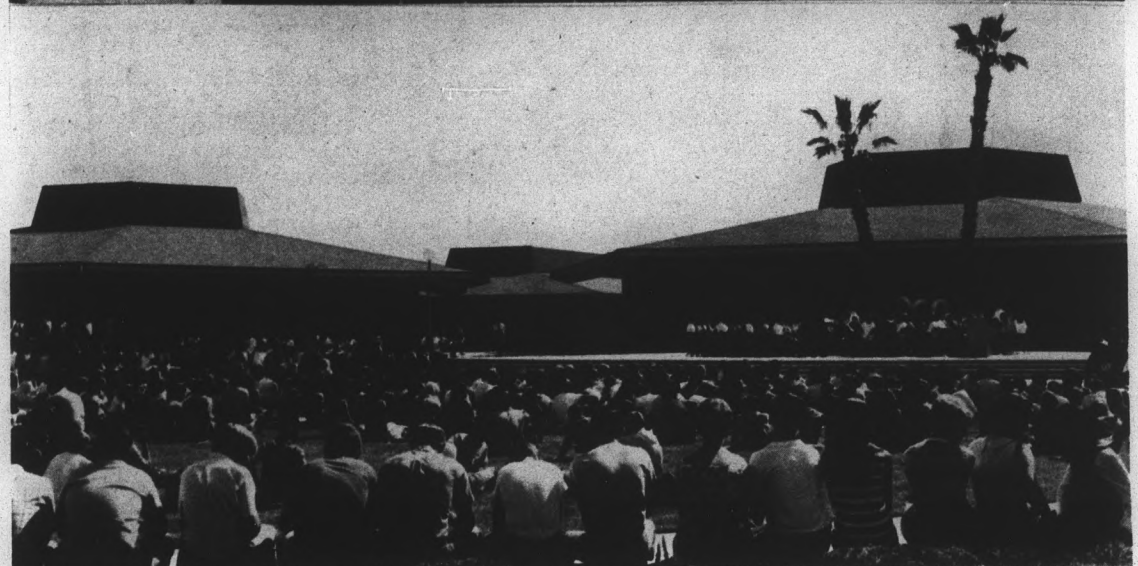

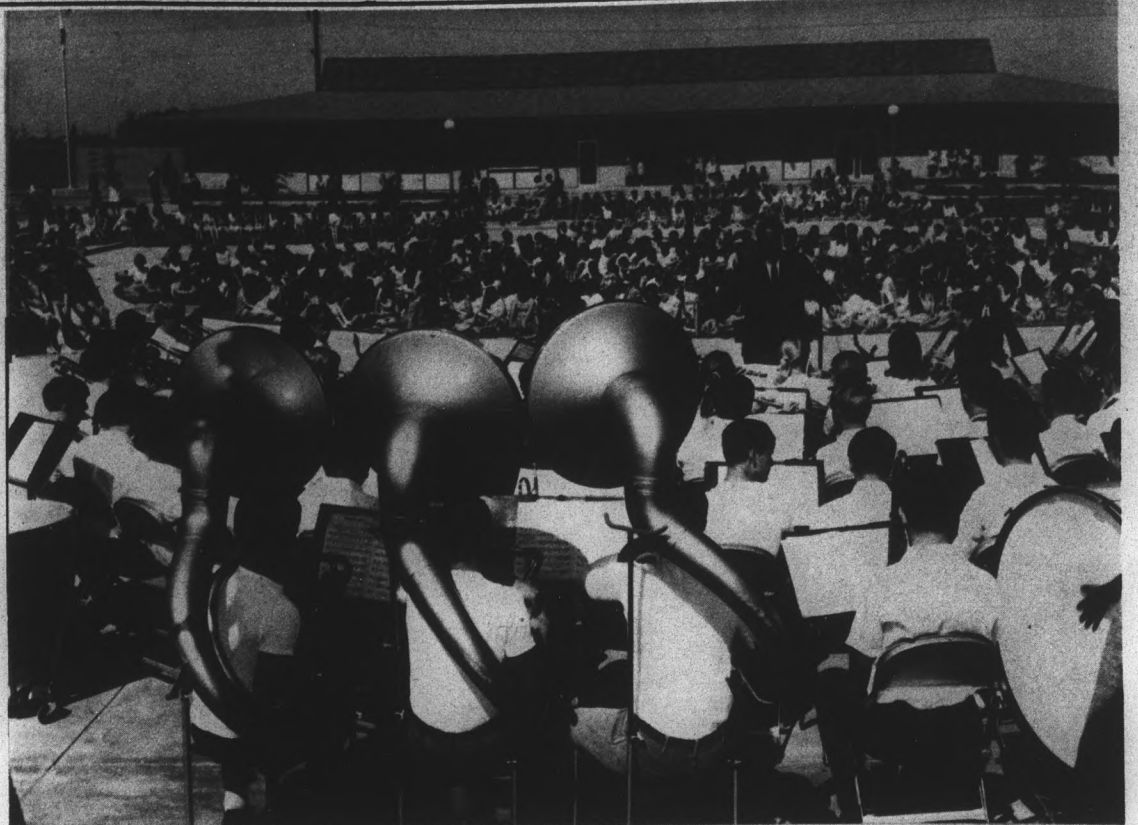

Sierra Press awards go to the second highest scoring boy and girl; to 4-H club members and FFA Chapter members, first to fifth place team, with one team award per organization; first to fifth high judging 4-H club members; and first to fifth high judging FFA Chapter members.

JACK ROSS TO SPEAK AT CENTER MEETING

PORTERVILLE - Jack Ross, from the engineering department of Sunkist Growers Inc., will speak and show slides on mechanical harvesters and picking aids for citrus at a meeting of the Porterville Farm Bureau Center to be held Monday evening, 7:00 p.m., at Gang Sue's.

Center Chairman Doug Peltzer says that election of new Center officers is also on the agenda, and that annual scholarship award to high school students will be presented. Reservations should be made by calling 784-8116, or by returning reservation card.

Commercial Exhibits Can Win Ribbons

PORTERVILLE - Commercial exhibitors at the 1969 Porterville fair will have a chance to earn ribbons for their entry, with judging set for 5 p.m. the opening day of the fair - May 15.

Categories for exhibits will include: Indoor and outdoor, with both of these categories broken into agricultural, non-agricultural, sportsmen and recreation.

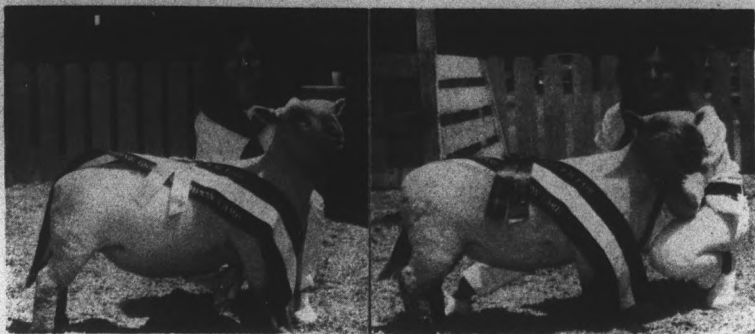

Further breakdown will be into Junior Feature exhibits and Senior Feature exhibits that will include organizational-type displays.

Judging will be in charge of the Porterville Junior chamber of commerce.

General criteria for judging will include: Attention to the fair's theme of "The New Look;" artistic presentation; display arrangement; and originality.

JOHN GUTHRIE DONATES HAULING

PORTERVILLE - John Guthrie, of Porterville, will again donate the hauling of livestock, purchased in the Porterville Fair's auction May 17, from the fair grounds to the slaughter house. Guthrie has donated this service to the fair for a number of years.

SOME NEW faces in the winners' circle appeared at last weekend's Tulare County 4-H fair as Davalynn Chamberlain, right, of Burton 4-H, showed the grand champion market lamb, and Debbie Baxter, left, of Westfield 4-H showed the reserve champion. Davalynn's lamb was bred by John Valpey, of Porterville; Debbie's lamb by Glenn Maddox, of Clovis.

WELDON AWARD GOES TO TOP SHEEP EXHIBIT

PORTERVILLE - Barry Weldon perpetual memorial award will go to the top sheep exhibit in the 1969 Porterville fair, the award being set up last year by the Vandalia 4-H club.

Judging for the award is based on best over-all sheep exhibitor, including pen conditions, showmanship, record books and placings.

Other sheep division awards will include: the Cyrille Faure trophy, presented by Williams Jewelers, for grand champion market lamb; the Guido and Joyce Lombardi banner awards for grand champion and reserve grand champion market lamb; the United Savings and Loan association trophies for reserve grand champion market lamb, and reserve champion 4-H market lamb, and champion and reserve champion FFA market lamb.

Best groomed pen award will be presented by the Strathmore chamber of commerce; second place award in this category will be presented by the Prairie

AWARDS GO TO BEST POULTRY, RABBITS, PIGEONS

PORTERVILLE - Exhibitors in the poultry-rabbit-pigeon department of the 1969 Porterville fair will be shooting for three merchandise certificate awards presented by Olive Street Shell - for best poultry exhibit, best rabbit exhibit, and best pigeon exhibit.

Heading up the division is R.J. Sheets, chairman; working with him is Clarence Valine, assistant chairman. Ribbons will go from first through fifth places.

NURSERY STOCK, ORNAMENTALS ENTERED

PORTERVILLE - Nursery stock and ornamentals will be shown in the nursery and ornamental horticulture division of the 1969 Porterville fair. Chairman is Mike Bowles.

Chairman of the fair's market lamb division is R.J. Owen, Jr.; assistant chairman is Gary Honeycutt.

Ag. Mechanics Classes Listed For '69 Fair

PORTERVILLE - Future Farmer and 4-H exhibitors will have 114 classes in which to show their project in the agricultural mechanics department of the 1969 Porterville fair.

Divisions listed in the fair's premium book are: Woodwork, sheet metal, welding and forging, cold metal, and rope work in small project category; woodwork, sheet metal, and welding in medium project category; and farm equipment construction, repaired farm equipment and electricity in the large project category.

Ray Kennedy, department chairman, and Mike Weldon, assistant chairman, state that judging will be based on practicability, usefulness, economical construction, durability, quality of workmanship, design, neatness, amount of work involved, skill in work, and size and complexity of the project.

All exhibits shown by Future Farmers must represent a regular part of instruction during the past year; 4-H exhibitors can enter only current year projects that must be accompanied by a project book.

Project Books Are Judged For Faure Awards

PORTERVILLE - Never in the spotlight but an important and necessary part of the 4-H and FFA program are project books that cover details in development of an individual's project.

These books are judged during the Porterville fair, and the Cyrille and Norma Faure awards go to the boys or girls with the best books, based on complete record of all projects during the year, prepared in longhand by the club member and signed by parents.

Awards will be presented during the night show, Saturday, May 17.

This month there is so much activity in Porterville that you will need to be twins to take it all in and triplets if you're on one of the committees. If all the work that goes into these civic duties was put into planting flowers there would be the darndest mixed up mass of flowers you ever saw. Someone once said a camel was a horse put together by a committee and we believe it's true.

If your garden looks like a committee put it together you either have an old fashioned type garden or you're as disorganized as the rest of us. This really doesn't hurt anything. The main thing is either that you enjoy it or that you take out your frustrations on it. Nothing like cutting a snail in half or beating a weed to death to offset the last tax statement you received.

If both your gardening and your tax statement frustrates you then the only answer is to go fishing. By the time you've been rained on, snowed on, and mosquito bitten you may go back to work in self defense.

Meanwhile we're at work over on "E" St. North of Olive trying to keep these plants so bloomin' pretty that you can't resist them. Come anytime. Remember this Sunday is Mother's Day and you can ease your conscience at little cost with one of our large flowering plants.

SHOWMANSHIP IS PART OF TRAINING

PORTERVILLE - The art of livestock showmanship is one of the skills that 4-H club members and Future Farmers develop over a period of years by work, experience and study, with showmanship classes set in all livestock divisions of the 1969 Porterville fair.

Basically, an exhibitor competing in showmanship must have both his animal and himself clean and sharp. His animal is judged not only on cleanliness but also on condition, and quality, firmness and uniformity of covering, as well as a generally attractive appearance from the standpoint of prevailing breed standards.

As a showman, a boy or girl must demonstrate an ability to pose his animal properly and to move his animal around the ring as indicated by a sign or words from the judge.

Showmanship awards at the Porterville fair include: H.D. Lee and Levi-Strauss merchandise awards from Leggett's Men's and Boy's store to first, second and third place winners in all FFA divisions, junior 4-H divisions and senior 4-H divisions.

Porterville Breakfast Lion's club trophies will go to first place winners in FFA, Jr. 4-H and Sr. 4-H classes.

The perpetual Col. Harry Hardy Memorial award, with a silver dish for permanent possession, goes for 1st place in 4-H and FFA showmanship.

The South San Joaquin Holstein-Friesen association award goes to the Holstein exhibitor standing highest in class in Jr. 4-H, Sr. 4-H and FFA.

Ribbons go for first through fifth places.

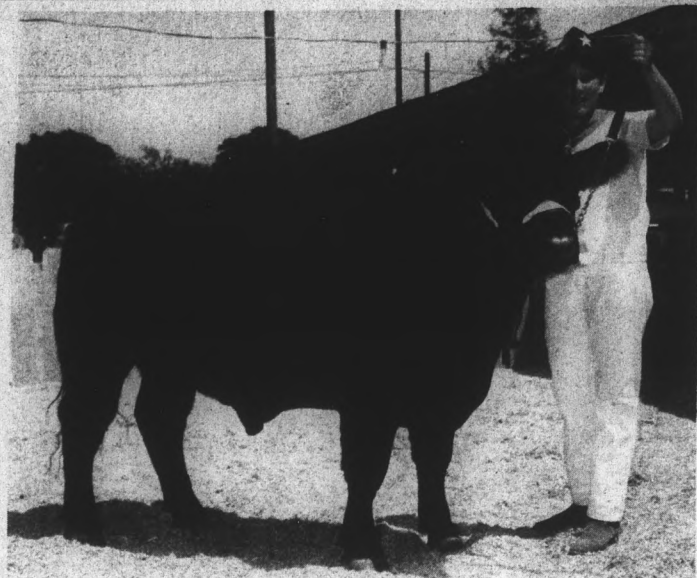

In Round Robin showmanship winners in FFA and Sr. 4-H showmanship are eligible to compete.

In this contest each contestant works his own animal in the first go-around, then exhibits three other types of animals, resulting finally in the showing of dairy, beef, swine and sheep. To win in the round robin event, a boy or girl must be proficient in the showing of these four types of animals, not just the animal they worked with in their project.

Porterville chamber of commerce trophy goes to the highest overall winner between Sr. 4-H and FFA.

The Janet Lombardi perpetual trophy, with a belt buckle for permanent possession, donated by Finance and Thrift, goes to the winner of the Jr. 4-H round robin showmanship.

Co-chairmen of the Porterville fair's round robin showmanship contest are Guido Lombardi and Ray Kennedy.

FILMING OF the grand champion steer at last weekend's Tulare County 4-H fair became a sort of brother-sister act, what with Rick Stark, Lindsay 4-H, showing the grand champion, but with sister Laurie taking it into the sale ring and posing it for official photos. Rick, a Tulare County 4-H All-Star, is also a member of the Lindsay

High School swimming team which was competing last Saturday - so Rick was off swimming while Laurie did the work. Word around the fairgrounds was that Rick and Laurie have a couple of animals better than the 4-H grand champion headed for the Porterville Fair.

COWS COMPETE IN BUTTERFAT CONTEST

PORTERVILLE - Some dairy cows in the 1969 Porterville fair will be "working" during the fair to earn the C.A. Gilbert butter fat contest award. Samples of milk will be taken from morning and evening milkings and tested for butterfat content.

BISHOP AWARD FOR GRAND CHAMPION HOG

PORTERVILLE - The Rolla Bishop memorial award will go to the exhibitor of the grand champion market hog in the 1969 Porterville fair, this award being set up last year in memory of the late Rolla Bishop who was an original director of the fair and for many years one of the west's top exhibitors of Poland China hogs.

The perpetual trophy, and a replica for permanent possession, is awarded by Williams Jewelers.

Other swine division special awards for the 1969 fair include the Jones Hardware trophy for reserve grand champion market hog; the Wilbert and Delwin Moench trophy for the grand champion sow; the Robert and Velda Dunbar awards for the champion 4-H and FFA market hogs; and the Robert and Reba Wolfram trophy for grand champion pen of two.

Hal and Beverly Campbell will present the first-place award for the best groomed pen in the swine division; second place award will be presented by the Terra Bella chamber of commerce.

In charge of the swine division at the fair this year are Wilbert Moench, chairman, and Calvin Weisenberger, and Dick Lawrence, assistant chairmen. Classes are set up for market hogs and breeding animals.

4-H CLUBS TO WORK FOR TOP TROPHY

PORTERVILLE - One of the most sought-after awards given at the Porterville fair is the Porterville Kiwanis club perpetual trophy for the outstanding 4-H club participating in the fair.

Points toward the trophy are awarded for exhibits in all divisions, and for placings as awarded by judges, with a system worked out to equalize opportunity between small and large clubs.

OUR TOWN

By Ruth Loyd

I don't know why I bother to write this. Ole Bill will probably throw it away to make room for his favorite Fair Stuff. I don't mind, but I hate to use my brain for nothing. (Note to the Editor: Please don't comment on that last statement.)

OUR GOLF CLUB is having its Calcutta Tournament. I'm not too sure what a Calcutta is either, but Harold Hammarsten said I should play in it, and I did. In a Calcutta women sign up on a little piece of paper, and the men look it over and pick whom they would like to play golf with. Then Ray Holloway comes to the pot luck and auctions off the teams. When you play golf like I do, it is handy to have a husband around to bid on you, because no one else will. Somewhere along the line the Club makes money. Ralph Tyrrell had been asked to play with me, but for some reason he had to go to L.A. in a hurry. I wonder????? Anyway, Harold Ross was talked into playing with me in Ralph's place, and as Harold is new here, he didn't know what kind of a golfer I am. Such a surprise. We had a happy time, and we were playing along until two members of the High School Golf team asked to join us. It was then that our golf game picked up. When you play with two hot shots who can outdrive, outputt, outwalk you, you perk up and do your best. Scott Hornsby and Dave Bensen were very nice to me while I wandered around "out of bounds" trying to find that little pill. They were patient when I landed in the ditch and sliced across the road, they didn't say a thing when I over-shot the green twice. My faith in the younger generation is restored.

Saturday, Millie Weisenberger almost got killed. Cliff Brown almost killed her. I really don't know what Cliff has against Millie. We were sitting on the fourth tee waiting for the four cops to play through on the fifth fairway. Cliff took a whack at the ball and sliced it, going about a hundred miles an hour, between Millie and me. It almost took Millie's eyebrows off. I thought it was Jim Heusden's shot, and I was going to get me a cop, but it was Cliff, and who can get mad at Cliff. He was just as shook up as Millie. I tell you, these policemen are dangerous. Maybe if they had airconditioning in their cop cars, they wouldn't be so wild on the golf course.

Early every morning after the joggers go home, the golfers take over. Now Arlie Morris is putting up lights so the driving range and the putting green will be open at night. Some people worry about the sonic boom, but people around the golf course worry about golf balls going through windows. But it's all done in good clean fun.

Happiness is being a mother. on Mother's day.

The West's finest Quarter Horses will be competing at the Porterville Fair Quarter Horse show, Thursday, May 15.

Group Planned To Work For 65 Improvement

PORTERVILLE - Reactivation of the old Highway 65 association, or formation of a new group to push for improvement and development of Highway 65 is the object of a no host dinner meeting tonight at The Paul Bunyan in Porterville, starting at 6:30 p.m.

Representatives from chambers of commerce, and from cities interested in development of 65 highway, have been invited to attend. The meeting was called by the Tourist and Highways committee of the Porterville chamber of commerce.

It is hoped that a permanent chairman and a working committee can be set up at tonight's meeting. Some of the objectives of such a committee would probably be to push for freeway status of highway 65 between highway 99 and highway 198, also the moving ahead of proposed development of the new section of 65 from Lindsay to highway 198.

COLLEGE CHORAL GOES ON TOUR MAY 8-11

PORTERVILLE - The Porterville College Chorale will present choral concerts in California cities while on tour May 8 through May 11 with the 78-voice chorale, under the direction of Dean Semple, to perform in Pacific Grove, May 8, and on May 9 at Hayward, where they will participate in a junior college choral festival.

On May 10, the chorale will present an hour-long sacred concert at a Seventh Day Adventist church in the San Francisco area. The final tour performance will be a half-hour concert in the Stanford University chapel, as a pre-church service program of sacred music.

Mathias Bill Hits At Pornography

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Congressman Bob Mathias has introduced legislation that would prohibit the mailing of pornographic material to minors, persons under the age of 18 years, and would also prohibit pornographers from using second, third, and fourth class mails in sending out their materials to any person.

KIWANIANS AGAIN MAN FAIR GATES

PORTERVILLE - Porterville Kiwanians have been among the main-stay supporters of the Porterville fair for many years, and this year they'll be back on the job manning the fair gates. Chairman of the Fair Gate committee is Paul Kruger.

AGRICULTURE, HORTICULTURE EXHIBITS AT FAIR

PORTERVILLE - Displays of agriculture and horticulture in FFA and 4-H divisions will be entered in the 1969 Porterville fair, with general categories including: Grain, dry bean, forestry, forage plants, vegetables, deciduous fruits, citrus fruits and nuts.

The department is headed up by Bob Mailand; assistant chairman is Mrs. R.E. Marshall.

NEWSPAPER MAN HEADS CHAMBER

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Jenkin Lloyd Jones, editor and publisher of the Tulsa Tribune in Tulsa, Oklahoma, and a nationally syndicated newspaper columnist, has been elected president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. Western division vice president of the national chamber is William F. Knowland, publisher of the Oakland Tribune.

General hospital and the Valley Children's hospital. Attending from Porterville will be Cynthia Rowland and Janet Taylor; from Strathmore, Harry Dellicker and Carla Guinn.

WINE GROWING in California moves into its bicentennial this year, since it was 200 years ago that Franciscan Father Junipero Serra planted the first wine grapes at Mission San Diego, carrying the vines from Mexico in order to supply wine for table and ritual use. Descendants of those first Mission vines, planted in 1769, still flourish, and today California has 490,860 acres of farmland devoted to grapes that supplied 150 million gallons of wine to the domestic market last year - about three fourths of the wine consumed in America. Above photo, Vintage in California, is reprinted from an original wood cut that appeared in Harper's Weekly, 1878. Although techniques and equipment have changed considerably over the years, basic winemaking remains the same: Use of fresh grapes ripened in the California sun, then crushed carefully to release rich juices that after fermentation and aging, go to tables throughout America - and into a number of foreign countries.

New Price Schedule On Milk Is Set By State Department Of Agriculture

SACRAMENTO - The California Department of Agriculture has released a new schedule of minimum wholesale and retail prices for milk sold in the Central Valley Marketing area, and announced the creation of a new price zone in the area.

Under the new schedule, effective May 11, minimum prices paid by consumers at retail stores will remain unchanged in Zones 1 and 3 of the area, which consist of Merced county and the major parts of Fresno and Madera counties.

In Zone 2, which includes Kings county and most of Tulare county, minimum retail store and home delivery prices will be increased 1/2 cent per quart, and 1/2 cent per half gallon. New minimum retail store prices will then be 26 cents per quart and 50 1/2 cents per half gallon. New minimum home delivery prices will be 27 cents per quart and 52 1/2 cents per half gallon.

In Zone 1, comprised of most of Fresno county, retail home delivery list prices will be increased one cent per half gallon and 1/2 cent per quart. However, a new volume discount plan for home delivery consumers in this zone will leave the net prices unchanged for consumers purchasing five quarts or more per delivery.

The new price zone established in the area consists of Mariposa county and the eastern mountainous parts of Madera, Fresno and Tulare counties. The minimum prices set for this zone will be 53 cents per half gallon and 27 cents per quart for milk sold at retail stores and 55 cents per half gallon and 28 cents per quart for home delivered milk.

These price adjustments represent the first changes in milk distributors' or retail store margins in this area since February, 1965.

for Sportsmen's programs in connection with propagation and preservation of fish and game.

Jim Stafford, head of the door-prize committee, states that more than 100 prizes will be given away during the evening; Roy Beagle and Winston Alexander are co-chairmen of table arrangements and seating; Uly Priftike is membership ticket sales chairman; Ray Holloway will act as master of ceremonies.

Assisting in handling parking and traffic will be the California Highway Patrol and deputies from the office of the Tulare County sheriff.

Among programs handled by Sportsmen's association committees are planting of trout in the Tule River watershed; deer herd surveys; clearing of trails from highway 190 down to the Tule river for benefit of fishermen; recommendations on legislation concerning fish and game; and generally working to maintain good hunting and fishing currently, and for coming generations.

Major business completed during the past year includes sale of association clubhouse property adjacent to the Rocky Hill arena.

project, and, at the time he left state employment to enter private business, he was principal engineer in charge of the department's southern California district.

Gianelli received his engineering degree from the University of California in 1941; he was born and raised at Stockton.

Guests at the luncheon will include Dairy Princess Debi Gilbert, Tulare County Maid of Cotton Linda Cruft, and Alternate Maid Karen Eisner. Dinner music will be provided by Ralph Hayes; a special Chinese buffet, with chicken and salads added, will be served by Gang and Tim Sue.

Porterville Mayor Richard Spencer will extend an official welcome, Bill Rodgers will act as master of ceremonies, invocation will be spoken by the Rev. Willard Weeks.

Tickets for the luncheon are available at Porterville's five banks and two savings and loan associations, also at the office of the Porterville chamber of commerce. Handling ticket sales is Loren Schmid; price is $2.90 per plate; both men and women - farmers and city folks alike - are invited to attend.

Following the luncheon, a farm implement parade, with Barney Richardson in charge, will move down Main street, with Gianelli, Chrisman, and the cotton maids and dairy princess riding through downtown Porterville in Ed. Jones 1913 Speedwell. Also fired up and on display at Gang Sue's will be the historic steam engine that is on permanent display at the Porterville museum.

"Vacationland" Center Announced By Safeway Inc.

LOS ANGELES - A shopping center which will feature a special line of "vacationland" products will be built in the Lake Isabella area by Safeway Stores, Inc., it was announced by Earl W. Smith, vice president and Southern California division manager.

The four-acre market site is located at Hwy. 178 and Lurner Ave., one mile from Lake Isabella. Safeway purchased the site from John and Pauline McNally of Fairview. McNally, long active in the Lake Isabella area, is a Tulare county deputy sheriff.

Planned is a 21,000 sq. ft. market center to be constructed on half the property, with the remaining half reserved for development by compatible tenants.

This is Safeway's first venture into specialized merchandising to cater to vacationers in Kern county, according to Smith. Lake Isabella was selected due to its popularity as a vacation spot for Southern Californians.
